

RACE BY RACE ANALYSIS

By Acacia Courtney

Friday, July 6, 2018

RACE 1:

7 - Richie's Sister
1 - Hardcore Cat
6 - True Heiress

SELECTIONS: 7-1-6-2

RACE 2:

4 - Forty Fathoms
1 - Time Will Tell
6 - Coal Miners Son

SELECTIONS: 4-1-6-2

RACE 3:

7 - Frenchmen Street
5 - Visions of You
4 - Jingle Bells

SELECTIONS: 7-5-4-3

RACE 4:

2 - Quenane
5 - Chepstow
8 - To Dare

SELECTIONS: 2-5-8-4

RACE 5:

3 - Wake Me Up At Noon
6 - Cousin Tino
5 - Coco Is Loco

SELECTIONS: 3-6-5-7

RACE 6:

1 - Fully Loaded
6 - Nacho Papa
2 - Well Defined

SELECTIONS: 1-6-2-3

RACE 7:

8 - Eila
5 - Taylor's In Orbit
1 - Meant Tobe Mine

SELECTIONS: 8-5-1-6

RACE 8:

9 - Nola Fashion
6 - A Square to Spare
1 - Helen Virginia

SELECTIONS: 9-6-1-4

RACE 9:

2 - Jezebel Jones
1 - La Duquesa
12 - Drinks On Maggie

SELECTIONS: 2-1-12-3

BEST BET: Race 2 - #4 Forty Fathoms

When at the right level, this colt has been ultra impressive on the racetrack and a model for consistency. The only blemish on his form is the race two starts back when the connections tried to step him up in competition and it proved that he was in over his head. Now, first off the claim for Gilberto Zerpa, he looks to be spotted perfectly and coming in strong. Over the past five years, Zerpa has a 27% win average with horses first off the claim that won last out, and finishes in the money 60% of the time.

LONGSHOT: Race 7 - #5 Taylor's In Orbit

Based off of the competition she will be facing, this filly is bound to be a price once again, even though she has won her last two races. She has to show that she can do it again, and three in a row is a big ask for any horse, but it seems that Taylor's In Orbit has really found a home sprinting on the grass at Gulfstream. In addition, she has a good closing kick, which should serve her well in this race where the pace could be a bit quick.