BEST BET: Race 3 - #7 Mauras Forever

I've been waiting for this filly to drop to the maiden claiming level, and here she is. In addition, she picks up Luis Saez and looks to be the main controlling speed in the race with a good outside post. The Gustavo Delgado barn has also picked up a lot of steam lately. She seems to meet the right field today and have the right running style for success.

LONGSHOT: Race 9 - #4 Ellas My Love

This colt will be making his first start on dirt after 5 career races on the synthetic at Woodbine, but I think he should handle the surface switch. Not only does he have plenty of dirt pedigree on the bottom side, but he has been training exceptionally well over the main track at Gulfstream since his last start. He's been very solid in all his races so far, although the break seems to be a bit of an issue.
