BEST BET: Race 6 - #8 Too Much Data

This gelding won so impressively last time out in his first start for trainer Jorge Duarte, Jr., who is 4-for-11 this meet since going out on his own. It looks like, based off works, that we will see another good effort from Too Much Data second off the layoff. I like that jockey Irad Ortiz, Jr. stays aboard, and I think that this horse has the right tactical running style to be successful in this race that looks a little light on early speed.

LONGSHOT: Race 10 - #3 Topper T

There was a bit of a buzz surrounding this horse when he moved to the barn of Bill Mott and showed up in the Breeders' Cup Juvenile, and I truly have just been waiting for him to come back sprinting. We'll get that today, and he comes in fresh off a bit of a layoff after his Breeders' Cup try, which was followed by a run in the G2 Kentucky Jockey Club at the end of November. He has been working very sharply at Payson Park, and gets Javier Castellano in the saddle today.
