BEST BET: Race 3 - #3 Oak Bluffs

I've been chasing this gelding for his last few starts, especially after his huge performance in the Claiming Crown Canterbury. The class of horses he has been running against puts him in a league of his own. He looks like he is in the right spot today to get that elusive Championship Meet win.

LONGSHOT: Race 10 - #2 Sand Drift

At a huge price last time out, this horse ran really well in stakes competition, even after encountering traffic trouble. She will likely be a price again today, although her Achilles heel is undoubtedly the fact that she likes to run from far out of it. She should get some pace to run at.
