BEST BET: Race 6 - #4 Beach Waltz

Beach Waltz capped off her two-year-old season with a maiden score, and clearly seemed to prefer the grass. The turf is where she'll stay as she faces winners for the first time, and she has leading rider Luis Saez aboard once again. She looks well meant in her third career start.

LONGSHOT: Race 8 - #4 Charming Kid

This filly broke her maiden at first asking in a race that proved to be a productive one, producing two next out winners. She will have to step up to face today's competition, but she has been training steadily on the Palm Meadows turf course for trainer Angel Penna Jr. Not to mention, she has the ability to come from off the pace, which is definitely a feather in her cap.
