BEST BET: Race 7 - #4 R Next Roll

It's a big ask for any horse to win four races in a row, but this filly has just been so razor sharp lately. There are a couple other horses in here who are quick early, but R Next Roll is clearly the speed of the speed. She has now won on the turf, a wet track, and a fast track, and her versatility is undeniable.

LONGSHOT: Race 8 - #7 My Point Exactly

Although he has only run this distance once before, I am taking a shot with this horse at a price because I feel that he would be successful at this sprint distance. Given his running style and relatively disappointing form as of late, I think a turn back in distance should help him settle nicely up close to the pace and work out a good trip under jockey Jonathan Gonzalez. This gelding has tons of back class, and if he can find some of that old form, he'll be a good value play to use.
