

JASON BLEWITT'S

Race Analysis

Saturday, April 13, 2019

RACE 1: 3 – 9 – 4 – 8

RACE 2: 9 – 2 – 3 – 5

RACE 3: 3 – 6 – 5 – 2

RACE 4: 5 – 1 – 2 – 3

RACE 5: 5 – 3 – 7 – 6

RACE 6: 6 – 5 – 1 – 2

RACE 7: 8 – 9 – 10 – 6

RACE 8: 10 – 6 – 3 – 2

RACE 9: 6 – 5 – 1 – 3

RACE 10: 5 – 4 – 11 – 1

RACE 11: 3 – 5 – 8 – 2

RACE 12: 1 – 11 – 9 – 12

12-Pack Saturday Capped by a 12-Horse Field

Horseplayers will (eventually) find a good-looking cast of maiden turf runners awaiting their analysis in Saturday's finale at Gulfstream Park. First-race post time this April 13th is 12:45 p.m. ET. The primetime winter meet has ended but race 12's cast sports a very 'live' and strong look; this could easily prove a "key race" in the coming weeks over the Gulfstream turf. Dyna Passer exits an auspicious, good-try turf debut in February and is the filly to beat in my opinion. By Lemon Drop Kid, Dyna Passer is a younger half-sister to the Grade 1 winning millionaire, Sadler's Joy, who is also trained by Albertrani. In fact, my Exacta fillies – Dyna Passer and Dancensing – exit the same February 17th GP turf race won by Sister Kitten. Dyna Passer endured a wide trip. My personal trip note for her 31-1 placing: "3-wide first turn, 3-4 wide second turn, and second best with a very good run." Meanwhile, Dancensing did not pull the smoothest of trips in her 10-1 debut for Hall of Fame trainer Bill Mott 55 days ago: "steadied-out early, far back for most of the race, widest above the ¼-pole, some interest late as she passed some tired horses." All three of Dancensing's siblings are winners, including Saratoga Jim Dandy hero, Good Samaritan. First-time starter Valiance drew the tough outside post (stall 12 of 12) for trainer Todd Pletcher as she debuts with a blue-blooded pedigree and flashy purchase price. By Tapit, Valiance brought $650,000 as a yearling and hails from a very talented Empire Maker dam (love him has a broodmare sire) named Last Full Measure. Last Full Measure was a Grade 1 winner at Keeneland and won a total of four races over turf and synthetic. Valiance is the third foal in the family; her oldest brother is just one for seven.